

Semih Karaorman

Curriculum Vitae

skaraorm@uni-bremen.de — 06.08.1997

Education & Employment History

Scientific Employee and Doctoral Candidate

Time period: April 2025 – ongoing
University of Bremen
Faculty of Business Studies and Economics
Chair of Economics of Innovation and Structural Change

Associate, Tax and Global Transfer Pricing

Time Period: April 2024 – July 2024
KPMG AG, Mannheim
Global Transfer Pricing Services
Responsibilities included the analysis of company-specific data, preparation of transfer pricing documentation, participation in client meetings.

Master of Science in Economics (Research Master)

Study period: October 2021 – April 2024
Heinrich-Heine-Universität Düsseldorf
Department of Economics
Specialisation in Competition Economics
Master Thesis: Network Markets and Price Discrimination

Bachelor of Science in Economics

Study period: September 2017 – July 2021
Universität Mannheim
Department of Economics
Bachelor Thesis: Behavior-Based Price Discrimination with Fairness-Concerned Consumers

Bachelor of Science in Mathematics

Study period: October 2016 – August 2017
Ruprecht-Karls-Universität Heidelberg
Department of Mathematics

Publications

Karaorman, Semih & Paha, Johannes, “Effizienz versus Ausbeutung: Preisdiskriminierung in Kartellrecht und Ökonomie,” Wirtschaft und Wettbewerb (WuW), January 2026, pp. 17–23.

Conferences

Behavior-Based Price Discrimination with Endogenous Learning in a Repeated Hotelling Model, presentation at the Diginomics Conference 2025, Bremen.

Behavior-Based Price Discrimination with Endogenous Learning in a Repeated Hotelling Model, presentation at the MaCCI Annual Conference 2026, Mannheim.

Teaching

Teaching Assistant for Microeconomics I (Bachelor level), University of Bremen, Summer Terms 2025 and 2026.

Skills

Programming & Software: R, Wolfram Language (Mathematica), Stata, LaTeX, MS Office, GDScript, Octave/Dynare

Languages: English (proficient), German (native)