

Economic Colloquium

Winter Term 2025/2026

Tuesday, 4:15 – 5:45 pm

- |                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|-------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 04.11.2025 | Sebastian Losacker und Moritz Schütz (Justus Liebig University Giessen) – Using new(s) Data in Regional Research: Insights from Ongoing Research on the Geography of Technology Legitimacy and Left-behind Places |
| 18.11.2025 | Lukas Buhmann (Martin Luther University Halle-Wittenberg) – The Infrastructure Multiplier in the Global South: Evidence from Chinese Lending                                                                      |
| 02.12.2025 | Philipp Denter (Universidad Carlos III de Madrid) – Troll Farms                                                                                                                                                   |
| 09.12.2025 | Jan Hausfeld (University of Amsterdam) – Attention and Discrimination                                                                                                                                             |
| 13.01.2026 | Fabian Dehos (Constructor University) – Time of Change: Health Effects of Motherhood                                                                                                                              |
| 20.01.2026 | Yves Breitmoser (Bielefeld University) – Fair Choice under Risk and Uncertainty                                                                                                                                   |
| 27.01.2026 | Janina Kraus (Leuphana Universität Lüneburg) – Fake Ratings in Digital Markets                                                                                                                                    |

---

Venue: WiWi2 F4090 (room changes are possible).
Zoom links will be sent separately.