

“Academic Freedom in the MENA Region”

Since the beginning of the Arab Spring in the early 2010s, countless academics in the Middle East and North Africa (the MENA region) have been fired from their faculty positions at universities and research institutions in direct response to the ideas expressed in their writing or teaching. In their course “Academic Freedom in the MENA Region”, Dr. Mabruk Derbesh, Dr. Nahed Ghazzoul and Dr. Teoman Aktan take this situation as a starting point to introduce the participants to the concept of academic freedom in general and its specific meaning in different geographical contexts.
