

Fachbereich 9 - Medienstudiengänge

Department 9 - Media Courses

Kommentar zur Lehrveranstaltung im WiSe 2019/20

Description of seminars

Veranstalter*in: Kerstin Radde-Antweiler
Lecturer:

Titel (dt.):

Titel (engl.): "These days politics, religion, media seem to get all mixed up."
Religion and Communication in Digital Society

Beschreibung:

Description:

The seminar "Religion and Communication in Digital Society" discusses the normative change of processes of digitalization and data processing in society with a focus on the religious field. Traditionally, churches and other ideological groups are institutions that influenced ethical values. How do they position themselves in a digitized society nowadays? Which protagonists within the media system are still relevant and which not? And furthermore, how does – organized and individual – religion change in times of deep mediatization? Can we observe a rising secularization as Stig Hjarvard suggested? Or can we observe different transformation patterns in individual actor constellations? The seminar will discuss different mediatization theories in the field of religion and ask on the basis of different case studies, how do communicative practices change in times when actors live in a qualitatively and quantitatively expanded media environment and to what extent does this affect their understanding of religion?

Literatur:

Literature: Literature to be announced at the beginning of the seminar and will be uploaded in StudIP.