Beschreibung: Speakers Academy® is the largest speaking institute of Europe and is ever growing. With its headquarters in Rotterdam, Netherlands and an office in Paris, France, Speakers Academy® is opening its doors to new markets. As a speaking institute, we advise multinationals, governmental institutes, cultural institutes and other organizations on whom could be an adequate speaker for a certain event and/or conference. On an annual basis we receive approximately 5.000 requests for speaking engagements across Europe.

Our faculty members provide lectures and presentations in numerous fields such as that of science, philosophy, politics, European integration, sales management, marketing, sports and adventure, media, information technology, economics and so forth. In addition to advising clients on whom may be a compatible speaker for an event, Speakers Academy® manages the agenda, the bookings, provides financial settlement and often does the complete management of prominent scientists, politicians, artists, sportsmen and women, journalists and other captains of industry.

Your tasks will be:
- Support the growth of the German department
- Recruit potential German speaking speakers
- Update a marketing database
- Translation of certain articles and documents
- Manage speakers’ profiles and biographies
- Research and Development
- Administrative and organizational support to the German department

Remuneration:
To be negotiated with the interviewee depending on qualifications and previous job experience.
