In the series “Networking of, for and with alumni”, an alumna or alumnus invites us to a special place – thereby granting members access to experiences and insights which otherwise would be difficult to come by. At the same time, you can meet old friends and establish new contacts both personally and professionally. It opens up wonderful opportunities for maintaining and expanding your network of contacts while exploring new exciting places.
WHY WE EXIST.

The University of Bremen is one of the best German universities and is integrated into a multi-faceted national and international network. With their efforts and as an important part of the network, the alumni have contributed to this success. Alumni der Universität e.V. aims to strengthen this network and make it available for all our members, as well as for the University of Bremen as an institution.

Idly the way: You can also join the association as a student or employee of the university to get connected with the alumni of the university and expand your personal or professional network.

The word alumni (alumna, alumnus, pl. alumni) derives from the Latin verb “alere”, i.e. “nourish”, and means “foster child, student” of their alma mater (former university). The term describes former students and staff members of a university.
