2021 - UNIVERSITY OF BREMEN TURNS 50

In October 2021, the University of Bremen will celebrate its big anniversary: Almost 50 years ago, the university started its teaching activities on the newly built campus. Low hierarchies, interdisciplinarity, project-based learning – all those were principles and values for the establishment with which the university was able to set itself off in the higher education landscape. Thanks to excellent research, the university and Bremen as a science location today enjoy a formidable reputation and have become a meaningful economic factor for the region.

From now on, we would like to discuss in this section what the 50th anniversary means for us, our members, and the university in a number of ways.

HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY: HOBBY ARCHIVISTS WANTED

Thousands of photos, posters, flyers, and newspaper articles, workpieces from the degree course Labor Studies/Politics – the archive of the University of Bremen hosts a wealth of documents on the history of our university. For the 50th anniversary, we would like to prepare archive documents for an exhibition of the alumni association and are looking for volunteers for the project.

'BRAVE NEW FINANCE WORLD'

How does Bitcoin work; will Facebook become a bank; will Sweden introduce its own digital currency soon? Professor Lars Hornuf explained these and further issues to the participants of our last network event in 2019. For most of them it meant a journey to a strange world, connected with great wonder and one or the other aha moment.
