REGIONAL GROUPS: ON IT GOES...

There is a lot going on in our regional groups! In Hamburg, the first get-together took place on September 18. Six alumni met to get to know each other and reminisce about their time in Bremen. Similar events are planned in Hannover and Munich. We are also very happy that a chapter in Nigeria is on the horizon. You are also interested in engaging in a regional group in your (elected) hometown? Please contact us. Read more...

NEW EXHIBITION AT THE SUUB: 'MARION'S BOOK'

The State and University Library Bremen is host to a new exhibition called 'Marion's Book.' It features a book that Marion Baruch gave to her sister Helga as a wedding gift in 1936. It is a book of drawings about the history of the family as well as the love story between Helga and her husband. The humorous illustrations give us insight into the life of a happy family in the 1930s, whose lives were ruined by Nazism. You do not want to miss this! Admission is free of charge. ## FREE SHOP ON OCTOBER 12

Around 5,000 new students are expected to begin their degrees at the University of Bremen this winter semester. Among them are many international students, who often arrive in Bremen with only the luggage allowed on an airplane. They frequently live in the sparsely equipped rooms of the student residences. The SeniorCitizens, a group of senior citizens who take classes at the University of Bremen, would like to help out these international students by collecting household goods. Read more...
