

The “YUFE Postdoctoral Training and Development Scheme”: An internationally organised programme for postdocs

YUFE (Young Universities for the Future of Europe) is a university network of ten European universities. One of the network’s aims is to establish YUFE-wide support for postdoctoral researchers. With the “Postdoctoral Training and Development Scheme” YUFE wants to provide internationally organised trainings and networking opportunities, and foster new collaboration opportunities (for more information on the concept: YUFE Approach to Doctoral and Postdoctoral Learning). The programme will take place from November 2024 until December 2025.

There will be online workshops on:
