Dear Petra Droste,

we are delighted to inform you about the opening of applications for the European University Institute’s Global Executive Master (EUI GEM). Don’t miss the opportunity to become part of the first cohort and advance your personal career development journey.

Why the EUI GEM?

The part-time programme, spanning over two years, allows full-time work to be combined with professional growth and peer exchange. Participants will learn from leading academics, policymakers and experts from the private sector. They will deepen their knowledge in one of four specialisations: energy and climate; economics and finance; technology and governance; and geopolitics and security.
